It might be supposed, from the wording of the resolution, that it is proposed to abolish the Finance Committee altogether; but it must be borne in mind that at present the Finance Committee is in reality the Council sitting with closed doors, with the one exception that the Governor is not present. That there shall be no more private discussions upon matters of public interest or upon votes of public funds, is the gist of the proposal here made. If this cannot be effected without abolishing the Finance Committee, then abolish it by all means; but it is not the business of the advocates of the fullest publicity to specify or particularise the means to be adopted. It is argued that the Finance Committee was instituted for the convenience of the public service. But nothing can be clearer to any one who studies the matter than this, that the Finance Committee has usurped the duties of the Council, with the result that almost every discussion of importance—call it free and easy and pleasantly and conveniently converantional as you choose—has taken place in private, and nearly every decision given has been arrived at with closed doors. Whoever may be responsible for this unconstitutional course of action, it matters not; but no one can question the fact. Probably the opening of the Finance Committee to the reporters of the press would meet the difficulty and preserve the Committee. That is a

THE Bombay Gazette, recently referring to the intelligence that Mr A. Colomboun was next cold weather to explore the country between Upper Assam and Mogoung, wanted to know if Mr Colquhoun can be spared from the administrative duties of an important district. The answer, says the Rangoon Gazette, is simple enough. Mr Colquitour has been selected by Sir Charles Bernard to assume, later on, charge of the frontier district of Mogoung, stretching from Upper Assam to Bhame; and part of his duty is to be the opening of comnunications, when that can be accomplished successfully. The work done by Mr Colquhoun, in his district, fully justifies the selection, no district in Upper Burma, according to advices from Mandalay, having made more progress in the work of preifica. tion than Sagain.

Japanese on 'The Mikado,' is published in one of the home papers. The writer takes the work as a serious Japanese opera, and criticises it accordingly. He soberly declares that no such names as Nanki-Pooh, Koko or Pool-Bah are to be found in robes of a priest, and that the embroideries on the dresses are in Japan used only for bedclothes. The costumes of the girls are authentic, but the writer protests against the son of the Mikado wooing a maid of low degree, as the blood Imperial has Committee have taken place by intermarriage been kept undefied for 2 564 years. The march on the arrival of the Mikado is genuine Japanese music.

THE LATE SIR ARTHUR KENNEDY

A ceremony, interesting to the community of Hong Kong in particular and t colonists generally, took place on the 17th July at the foundry of Messrs H. Young and Co., Pimlico, when the statue of the late Sir Arthur Kennedy, C.B., G.C.M.G., was cast in bronze. The statue has been executed by Signor Raggi, who received the commission from the community Hong Kong who desired to perpetuate the memory of their former Governor. The statue is a striking likeness and a fine work of art, and has received the an royal of all who have seen it. The ceremony was performed, at the request of Miss Kennedy by H.E. Sir George Bowen, G.C.M.G. the present Governor of Hong Kong, who, in a few eloquent words, made feeling allusion to the honour in which the memory of Arthur Kennedy is held in every colony over which he has ruled, and perhans more particularly in Hongkong, which he loved and which loved him. The foreign Ministers were asked to come in full diplomatic ion of swords and spectacles does not seem to have been broached on this occasion. precedent in the matter of diplomatic uniform has been set which the Chinese Ministers will find it hard to evade. On the occasion of Sir Harry Parkes' funeral, they were asked to be present in full mandarin uniform but declined, on the ground that the Taung-li Yamen did not recognise uniform. It would appear that all the Ministers were not quite hearty in regard to pressing for and accepting this dinner invitation. They felt perhaps the lack of a suitable occasion, that the Seventh Prince is not a member of the Yamen and does not take any part in its deliberations or in international questions. The Prince by this action may expose himself to memorials from enraged censors, but we should think he will be able to answer all such cavillers and show good grounds for the step which he has taken. -N.
